

Suggests Russia Evacuate Cuba or No Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., demanded today a formal reservation postponing the effectiveness of the limited nuclear test ban treaty until the Soviets remove their military forces from Cuba.

Goldwater regarded as a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he would offer such a reservation after the Senate takes up the treaty next week.

If the Senate adopts a formal reservation, it might require renegotiation of the treaty. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 16-1 last week to recommend ratification without any reservation.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Goldwater declared that as it now stands, the treaty is "a potential peril to peace rather than a step toward it."

Goldwater has been a frequent critic of the treaty but administration forces say they are confident the Senate will approve the pact overwhelmingly.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said today he thinks no more than five Republican votes will be cast against ratification.

Goldwater also called for another reservation originally proposed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, formally reserving the right of the United States to be sole judge as to when and where it will use its nuclear weapons to defend itself or its allies.

The Foreign Relations Committee, while opposing any formal reservation, wrote into its report an "understanding" to that effect.

Jobless to Continue to Get Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill under which the federal government for the third year would pick up the whole tab for teaching skills to unemployed workers under the Manpower Training Act.

It's the first piece of legislation suggested by President Kennedy in his civil rights message to be acted on by Congress, but it involves jobs, and not strictly racial issues.

The measure was approved by a voice vote Wednesday and sent to the House where a labor subcommittee has completed hearings on it but has taken no action. Sponsors there said it would be handled in a separate bill, as in the Senate, and not tied to the big civil rights package.

The Senate bill waives the requirement for states to match federal funds in financing the training program in fiscal 1965 starting July 1, 1964. It authorizes an additional $161 million in federal funds to pick up the state's share of the $322 million outlay scheduled for that year.

Washington is paying the full cost of the program in the first two years, fiscal 1963 and 1964.

Governors of 4 States in Conference

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — The governors of Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri met at a conference to discuss plans to encourage tourism in the four states.

The chief executives, Gov.s Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma, John Dalton of Missouri, Orval Faubus of Arkansas and John Anderson of Kansas, will discuss methods to attract visitors to the historic and scenic portions of the four states.

"We only expect to do the preliminary work (at the conference) and set things up for our various departments," Bellmon said.

"The four states feature a great number of things in common," Bellmon, originator of the conference, told newsmen. "We feel that we are not doing a good job selling ourselves independently and that through joint promotion we can increase the amount of tourism better than if each works separately."

The governors indicated the possibility of regional fishing licenses good in all four states was being explored.

"The vacation areas are really depressed areas in the states," Dalton said, noting that many people have moved out of the areas and "those remaining need to make a living. We hope to do it with tourism and small businesses."

"There are 60 million people within driving distance of our area," Faubus noted. "We think we have enough in the region to attract them."

The formal conference began today.

What Teachers Really Tire of Is the Extra Work That's Loaded on Them Each Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that schoolteachers get tired of hearing:

"In addition to your teaching duties, Miss Elmo, we expect you to act as chaperon at school dances, put on three plays a year and serve as career counselor. We sure would appreciate it, too, if you could help take tickets at the football games this fall."

"Well, yes, you have the experience all right, but speaking frankly we'd hoped to get a younger teacher with a more advanced degree. After all the job pays $3,650 a year."

"We realize you have to make both ends meet, Mr. Johnson, but I'm afraid we can't countenance moonlighting. It just doesn't look right for a high school civics teacher to hold a job on the side as a night watchman."

"I think you'll find us a pretty liberal school board, Miss Elmo. We haven't burned a library book in three — no, I think it's four years."

"My teacher used to hit my palm with a ruler if I couldn't spell a word. You won't do that to my little Oswald, will you?"

"This is by no means a hide-bound community, Miss Elmo."

Another Rabid Bat Reported

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Another rabid bat has shown up in Arkansas, the state Health Department reported today.

Dr. Harvie Ellis, state director of veterinary medicine, said a 19-year-old Frodyce youth was bitten by the bat when he picked it up Aug. 28.

The youth took the anti-rabies treatments, Ellis said.

Arkansas now has six confirmed cases of rabies in bats so far this year. Seven or eight persons have been bitten by bats, Ellis said, but not all of the bats were rabid.

Three rabid bats have been found in Pulaski County, one in Garland, and one in Ashley.

When the law was invalidated, work was stopped by the company on the maximum security building at the State Hospital in Little Rock.

The company filed a claim of $3,812 against the state, contending that it was damaged to that extent because of an extension of 168 days on the construction.

Ball Ends 3 Day Talks in Pakistan

By ALAN KENNEDY
RAWALPINDI Pakistan (AP) — U.S. Undersecretary of State George Ball ended a three-day visit to Pakistan today, saying he had had excellent talks with Pakistani leaders and "we have a better understanding of each other's point of view."

Although he failed to win a specific promise from President Ayub Khan not to move closer to Red China, Ball said his mission was fulfilled by the visit.

Ball said he had been sent to probe Pakistan's intention toward the Communist bloc.

American sources said Ball had the clear impression that Pakistan did not contemplate a mutual defense pact with Communist China nor any other approach to Peking that would contradict Pakistan's role in anti-Communist alliances.

The undersecretary flies now to Portugal for further talks with Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar — chief of another Western allied government with which the United States has been having differences.

Aides said he plans to report to President Kennedy Monday.

Two Charged in Texarkana Slaying

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor John Goodson said today that two men who are held in Lake Providence, La., have been charged with murder in the July 4 slaying of a Texarkana Ark. man.

Goodson said he charged Leroy Callahan of De Queen, Ark., and David Roden of McCurtain County, Okla. He said they were held in Louisiana for possession of narcotics and burglary tools.

James Henry Wallace, 30, was shot to death July 4 when he pursued two men who had hidden in the yard of his father-in-law's home. Henry Hooks, the father-in-law, operates a grocery store and Police Chief Max Tackett said he had been taking substantial sums of money home at night.

Callahan and Roden are white. Police said at first they were looking for two Negro men.

Violence Breaks Out in Birmingham, All Schools Are Closed

Woman to Keep Son in Negro School

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The school bell rang and children spilled out onto the ragged sunshine around McAlmont Elementary School, a modern, red-brick building just northeast of North Little Rock Wednesday.

Steven Fitts 6, and Edward Jernigan, 7 came out with their arms around each other's shoulders.

Steven a white youngster, had just completed his first day in the formerly all-Negro school.

Mrs. Y'Vonne Anita Fitts, 26, turned and beamed through her black-rimmed glasses at a reporter. "I was a little pessimistic on the way up here" she said. "Now I'm optimistic. He'll learn something by all of this. At his age, he has no prejudice."

Steven tugged excitedly at his mother's fingers. "I want to come back to this school tomorrow," he said.

"Why of course you will, honey" she told him.

Mrs. Fitts husband, Aic Kenneth Jay Fitts a native of Syracuse, N.Y., is stationed with the Air Force at Anchorage, Alaska. They have five children. The three eldest are adopted. Besides Steven, there are Virginia Carol, 24, Adolpho Fidel 4 and twins Kenneth Jay and Keith Jon 2.

Mrs. Fitts said her husband had told her to chart her own course when she told him she wanted to send Steven to a Negro school, but cautioned her not to "let our boy get hurt."

Until three months ago, she said, she had thought very little about desegregation since 1954 when she graduated from Little Rock Central High School and the U.S. Supreme Court handed down its desegregation decision.

Then her "eyes were opened" by a Negro friend of her husband's she said. She joined the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People two months ago and pawned her movie camera last month to raise money for a trip to Washington and the civil rights march.

A free-lance writer, she began sending articles to the Southern Mediator Journal a Negro newspaper.

She said her husband's friend was being sent to Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., and she was telling him all the places he would have to visit.

"But he stopped me," she recalled, "and said 'I can't go to any of those places. They don't allow Negroes.'"

That's when the idea of sending Steven to McAlmont took root in her mind. Last year he attended desegregated Jacksonville Elementary School. The school boundaries changed this year and Steven normally would have attended all-white Sherwood Elementary School, three miles from his home. McAlmont is only a

Thundershowers Over Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers broke over dry northwest Arkansas this morning, but a warm sun burned away an early morning fog that rolled over most of the rest of the state.

A thick cloud cover over the northern portion of the state held temperatures in the low 80s Wednesday and sprinkled the area with a few showers and thundershowers.

Marianna and Fort Smith had inch and a half of rain, but most other areas reported less than a half an inch.

Highs in the south Wednesday were generally in the mid 80s to the mid 90s. Overnight lows reported around the state this morning ranged from the mid 60s to the mid 70s.

Highs of 84-94 were predicted for this afternoon and overnight lows were expected to range 64-72.

Sewer Gas Claims 4th Victim

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A fourth man died today of sewer gas poisoning suffered Tuesday in an underground pumping station in neighboring Bossier City.

R. G. Votel, 25-year-old father of three, was one of the firemen overcome by the gas while attempting to rescue city Water Department employees from the station 20 feet underground.

He was the second fireman to die of the gas. The other, Larry Baldwin, died several hours after the rescue attempt.

The other two were killed outright — Charles Brown, 21, and Clarence Reddic, both employees of the city Water Department.

Another fireman, Capt. A. J. Lodato, 28, remained in a hospital today. His condition was reported to be good.

Clyde W. Fowler, commissioner of finance and utilities, said the gas apparently ate a hole in a copper line leading to the activator gauge on a pump in the lift station.

The cause of the toxic gas remained a mystery. City officials are making tests to determine what made the gas poisonous.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs today named the members of a Jury Commission who will select the county's first petit and grand jurors since 1960 when two county officials and several others were indicted.

The commission members are Tom Dick Noble, Howard Caldwell and O. L. Thompson. Thompson is a Negro.

Dobbs said he would convene the jury Sept. 23. He said he expected to use both, but would not elaborate.

Negroes Defy Police, 1 Dead, Home Bombed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Four hours before three Birmingham schools were to be desegregated, Gov. George Wallace announced today that the city Board of Education had agreed to close them immediately for a temporary period.

And, he said, the board also had agreed to take legal action to try to stay the federal court order integrating the three schools. The action would be tied to an argument that integration would mean further racial violence.

Wallace's announcement, made through an aide, came at 4:20 a.m. (CST) after an all-night round of conferences between his staff members and city school officials.

The talks began in the wake of a sharp outbreak of racial violence which left one Negro dead in a melee involving hundreds of Negroes and city and county police.

At least 21 persons, including four policemen, were treated for injuries.

The outbreak which cost the life of John L. Coley, 20, killed by three bullets, erupted after the home of Negro attorney Arthur Shores was bombed for the second time in less than three weeks.

Negroes in the neighborhood swarmed into the streets, screaming and throwing rocks at police as the officers arrived.

Soon after the outbreak was quelled, the talks between representatives of Wallace and the school board began.

There already had been brief disorders Wednesday at two of the three schools to be desegregated. And six parents had filed suit, with Wallace's blessing, to try to win a stay of the integration.

After the night of negotiations, Wallace in Montgomery issued a brief statement, saying:

Want More Rights Action in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Negro leaders reported on the civil rights march in Washington at a meeting Wednesday night and called for a stronger stand by Little Rock Negroes.

Speakers criticized Gov. Orval E. Faubus and the Little Rock School Board, recommended union membership for Negroes and called for increased Negro voting strength.

S. S. McClinton, chairman of a poll tax committee, urged increased voter registration and criticized a remark Faubus made Monday in a speech at Rector. Faubus said Negroes were demonstrating for something they didn't earn.

McClinton said the Negro has earned his way and contributed to this country with his "slave labor, his free labor and his cheap labor."

Sixty persons attended the meeting at a Negro church.

Dr. Jerry D. Jewell, president of the Little Rock NAACP branch said it was time for Negroes to march in Little Rock. He said the school board, with the exception of one member, had no respect for Negroes.

The Rev. R. K. Young, pastor of the Bethel AME Church, said religion could be the key to the civil rights battle. But he said that while God wants Negroes to pray, He also wants them to get up off their knees and help themselves.

Most people get old too young and smart too old.

"I have tonight asked the city Board of Education of Birmingham to close until further notice schools at West End, Ramsay and Graymont.

"The board has acceded to my request and the schools will be closed temporarily.

"The board has also agreed at my request to join in the petition filed yesterday to stay the federal court order integrating these three schools."

It was at Graymont, an elementary school, that two Negro brothers registered Wednesday. They would have started classes this morning with white children.

Three other Negro pupils were to register and begin classes today at West End and Ramsay, both high schools.

Details of the school closings were left to Supt. Theo Wright.

There remained a question of what results the closing of the three schools would bring in this city, already jittery from the violence and months of racial troubles.

When the outbreak came Wednesday night, Wallace alerted 500 to 600 National Guardsmen for possible duty here and offered to make another 3,000 Guardsmen available. Local police officials said the situation was under control without the help.

The city bulged with police.

About 600 state troopers were on standby in Birmingham but were not requested by local authorities to help keep order in Wednesday night's outbreak and disorders during the day when white segregationists demonstrated.

Six white parents asked a federal judge for an injunction against integration of the schools because of violence. District Judge Walter P. Gwin of Tuscaloosa took the petition under advisement, giving no indication when he would rule. Wallace said his office helped prepare the suit.

In Huntsville, Ala., 12 white children quietly segregated a previously Negro parochial school operated by the Roman Catholic Church. It was the first known integration of an elementary school in Alabama.

The Justice Department was officially silent on developments in Birmingham. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy huddled with aides for several strategy sessions.

Wallace said in a long-distance telephone speech to a states rights meeting Wednesday night in Baton Rouge, La., that "we have another example of the federal government trying to take over our school system."

Wallace ordered units of the National Guard alerted shortly after the disorders in the area around the blast-damaged home of Negro attorney Arthur D. Shores.

The explosion came at about 9:45 p.m. Shores, his wife and 17-year-old daughter were in the

Mrs. Fitts has received a steady stream of obscene and threatening telephone calls since she sent her son to McAlmont. A rock was thrown through Steven's bedroom window showering him with glass as he slept, but he was not cut. Someone pelted Mrs. Fitts' small, white frame house with eggs.

But the only time she has suffered physical violence she said, was when a white man struck her on the shoulder and the side of her head with his fist during a discussion on the racial situation. Mrs. Fitts, 5-foot-5 and 117 pounds, said she was not a brave person but she added that she would not move from her home or change her telephone number because she felt this would be a form of running "and I'm not that scared—yet."

She also has refused to notify authorities of the threats and vandalism. "That would be like breaking a window, then hiding behind mommy's skirt," she said. "I started this and I've got to finish it if I can."

Two Guilty of Stealings Cars

HOT SPRINGS Ark. (AP) — A Garland County jury found two men guilty Wednesday of charges filed against them in connection with the alleged operation of a car theft ring.

The finding completed disposition of charges against eight men in the case. Four pleaded guilty to charges before or during the trial and two others were sentenced in Cleveland, Ohio last February. The trial of attorney Sam Anderson of Hot Springs, ninth defendant in the case remained to be set.

Found guilty Wednesday were Joseph Francis Newman, 59, of Akron Ohio and Forrest Cason 54 of Hot Springs.

Newman Cason and the four men who pleaded guilty were to be sentenced today.

The jury of eight men and four women found Newman guilty on six counts and Cason on nine, after deliberating three hours and 40 minutes.

Federal authorities said the ring operated between Hot Springs and Akron. Charges against the men ranged from theft to conspiracy.

Another Enters Pine Bluff School

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The fifth of six Negro children assigned to previously all-white Pine Bluff elementary schools enrolled today.

The sixth child, a Negro girl, did not register at Broadmoor Elementary School, where she was assigned.

Four other Negroes began attending integrated classes in Pine Bluff Wednesday.

Dr. John Trice, superintendent, said transportation problems prevented the girl from reporting to Broadmoor. Trice said the family had contacted his office and explained that transportation had not been worked out.

The Negro boy who enrolled in the second grade at the First Ward School today said he was unable to attend Wednesday because of transportation problems.

Police continued to patrol the school areas today but there were no crowds or demonstrations.

Cereals are those members of the grass family which have edible starchy seeds. Rice, wheat, rye, barley, oats, maize, sorghum and some of the millets are the common cereals. When ancient man discovered how to grow these foods, roving bands of hunters became settled communities, having an assured food supply and leisure to develop arts and sciences.

Paroles Given to 66 Persons

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Pardon and Parole Board issued paroles Wednesday to 66 persons among them Mrs. Bonnie Connolly, 41, of Hot Springs convicted of killing her husband Joseph in 1959.

Executive clemency was recommended for three other prisoners. Mrs. Connolly maintained that she fired a 22 caliber pistol to scare her estranged husband away from her house and that the killing was accidental.

Reinstatement Action Deferred

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Hot Springs Police Pension Board deferred action Wednesday on the application of former Police Chief John Ermy for reinstatement, but was to consider the request again today.

The board ordered Ermy, who retired in 1960 for health reasons, to undergo another electrocardiograph.

Ermy applied for reinstatement after Joe Crain was named police chief to succeed Milford Sanders who retired.

News Briefs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Archeologist Julio Ripamonti said today he plans to spend the rest of his life digging in the wilderness around Devil's Ravine with hopes of finding Moses' tomb.

Ripamonti, professor at the Central University of Venezuela in Caracas, recently returned after a 50-day expedition to the ravine, at the foot of a hill named Roujoun Makhayyat about 20 miles south of Amman.

Ripamonti believes Roujoun Makhayyat, highest hill in the area, could be Mount Posgah from which the Bible says God showed Moses the Promised Land. Moses died before reaching the Promised Land and according to the Bible was buried in a valley.

Ripamonti believes Devil's Ravine may be the valley.

BELGRADE (AP) — The Yugoslav press says the first proof of a desire by Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union to increase economic relations will be shown by a 50 per cent jump in trade by Jan. 1.

The reports by Politika, largest Yugoslav paper, and Borba, the Communist party newspaper, followed a visit to Yugoslavia by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Politika said "obstacles for a successful economic cooperation have been removed."

OTTAWA (AP) — Informed sources said Canada plans to offer a larger and more flexible Canadian force for U.N. peace-keeping operations around the world.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, who will attend the opening session of the U.N. General Assembly in New York Sept. 17, plans to sound out other countries on the proposal before making a public commitment the informants reported Wednesday.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Members of Secretary-General U Thant's 19-nation Congo advisory committee have decided to meet again Tuesday after consultations with their governments on whether U.N. troops should be kept in the Congo beyond the end of the year.

Sources said Thant asked for their advice at a private meeting Wednesday.

Thant's announced intention to pull the U.N. force out of the Congo by the end of 1963 was opposed by the United States and several other nations who fear a renewal of fighting.

The U.N. force, which at one time numbered 19,000 men, was sent to the Congo in July 1960 to preserve peace.

Requirements Met

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rudolph Bryant, supervisor of the state school safety program, says all 415 public school districts have met minimum fire safety laws.

Bryant said all districts had filed reports claiming compliance with requirements set out in Act 61 of 1959. The state can withhold 10 per cent of allotted aid from schools that do not meet minimum requirements.

Overdose Not Fatal to Royalty

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Princess Alexandra of Greece, former queen of Yugoslavia, was released today from a hospital where she was treated after taking a near fatal overdose of sleeping pills.

Alexandra, 42, was hospitalized Sunday night in a deep coma. Police said she took 16 sleeping pills, leaving in her bedroom four notes written in English. Contents were not disclosed.

Must Have Been Some Bad Golfers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An angry woman called the Montgomery County sheriff's department to complain about golf balls from a nearby golf driving range hitting her trailer home.

Later, she showed deputies the dents in her trailer, and then produced more evidence: 940 golf balls she'd picked up around the trailer since the range opened last spring.

He Discards His Nervous Problems

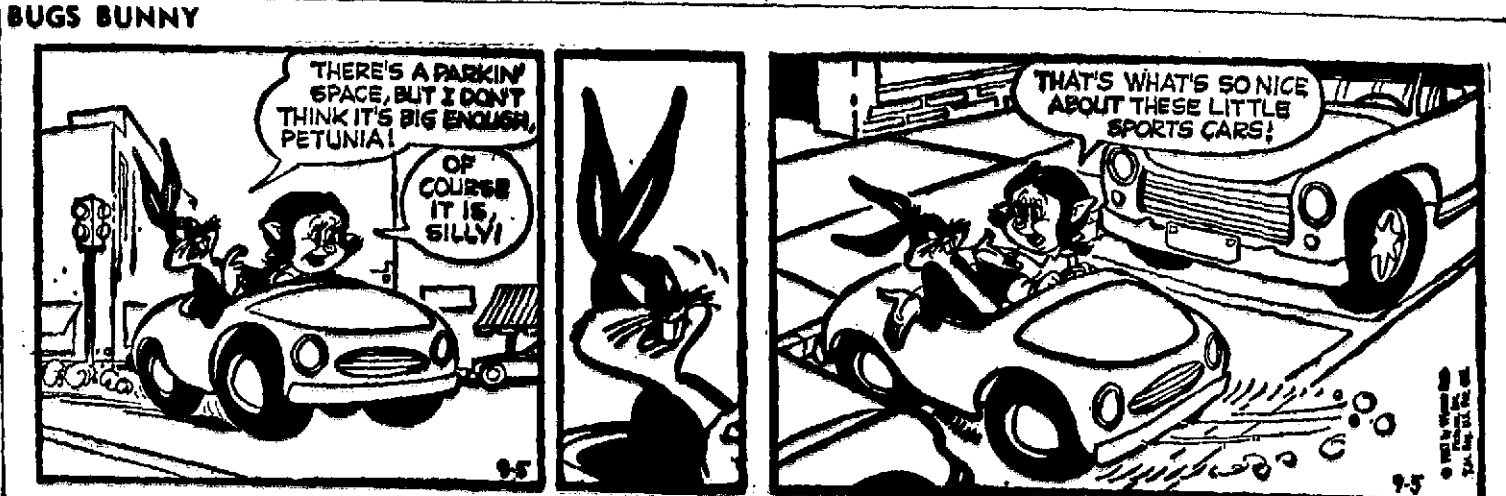

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In this television era so intensely dedicated to exploring in dramatic form the miseries, the frustrations and the diseases of man, there's one actor who has recovered from his nervous problems. And that, of course, is Don Knotts, the slight little man with the wee-begone face, who first made it big in television by creating the most frightened quaking character ever seen. Since moving out of the old Steve Allen hour, where his comedy specialty was playing an incredibly nervous fellow, Don has done very nicely playing—in a much calmer, healthier vein — Andy Griffith's deputy and side-kick. It has been a fruitful, comfortable assignment, for the "Andy Griffith Show" is now moving into its third CBS season, much of it spent on television's top-10 popularity list. Knotts seems to have been a little ahead of his time in developing a specialty of playing neurotics. Back in the dear, departed days of live television, Don spent three frantic years playing a psychoneurotic on the soap opera "Search for Tomorrow." Knotts, who is a more hard-working actor than comedian, is reconciled to playing funny fellows. But about retiring his nervous-man character he says: "Anybody who stays with one character for a long time gets pretty tired of it. The joy of our business is creating new characters, and that is particularly true in comedy work." Don, a West Virginia native, has won three Emmys for his supporting role on the show—a part he dreamed up for himself. He had worked with Andy in "No Time for Sergeants," a stage play which first brought Griffith to public attention. When the television series was under consideration, he merely called his pal Andy on the telephone and suggested that the sheriff of Mayberry needed a deputy. Andy allowed as how he did, and Don had a permanent job. Accident Fatal
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Roy Teasley, 55, of Little Rock, was killed Wednesday night when his car struck a utility pole. Sheriff's deputy Harvey Teague said Teasley's car glanced off a tree after striking the pole, then turned over. He was alone.

Bobcats Open Season Here Against Porks

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Friday night the Hope Bobcats take on the Texarkana Razorbacks in Hammond Stadium. This is the first game of the season for both of the teams. In last year's game, the Cats overpowered the Hogs 13-0.

It has been said that Hog tackle Derryl Martindale and guard Frank Buchanan are injured and may see little action. However, with some of the rumors people have been spreading lately, you sometimes don't know what to believe. Did someone mention a shotgun pass? Texarkana's line supposedly averages twenty-five pounds under the Bobcats.

Let's turn to something more dependable. Asked how he felt about Hope's chances for Friday, Coach Ben Burton had this to say. "I fear of our physical conditioning for this game. We've worked long but not too hard because of the heat and lack of conditioning. I believe that if we're in top shape, we may be able to stay in the game."

Here is the probably starting line-up for the Bobcats. Coach Burton considers the defensive team the real first team.

DEFENSIVE:
Ends—Jimmy Johnson—Harry Ray McMahon

Tackles—Ricky Butler—Jimmy Walker

Linebackers—Jerry Burnett—Richard McDowell

Cornerbacks—George Wright—John Wayne Hughes

Monster man—Dan Jones

Safety—Mac McLarty—Mutt Wassell

OFFENSIVE:
Ends—Larry Thrash—John Wayne Hughes

Tackles—Jimmy Walker—Jimmy Johnson

Guards—Ricky Butler—Jack Caldwell

Center—Dan Jones

Quarterback—Mac McLarty

Halfbacks—Jerry Burnett—Mutt Wassell

Fullback—Richard McDowell

Americans Knock Off Australians

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The back of the Australian tennis dynasty is broken—and some of the most telling links were dealt by a stringbean cannonballer from Florida anxious to avenge a big snub.

"It was the greatest tennis I ever played, and I couldn't have picked a better time to play it," Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., said excitedly Wednesday night after pulling off one of the biggest upsets of the year.

He knocked out Roy Emerson of Australia, rated the No. 1 amateur, with an explosive service and volleying attack in the fourth round of the National championships 6-4, 4-6, 9-7, 6-2. Although second-ranked nationally, Froehling had been overlooked by Davis Cup selectors and the seed ing committee this year.

The victory erased the last Australian from the field marking the first time since 1950 that Australia has been shut out of the men's quarter-finals at Forest Hills.

It puts an entirely different aspect on the Davis Cup challenge round, to be contested in December in Adelaide, Australia. Going into the quarter-finals, half of which will be contested today are four Americans. Froehling, Marty Riessen, Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston; two Brazilians Ronald Barnes and Thomas Koch; Mexico's Rafael Osuna and England's talented but erratic Bobby Wilson.

Wilson, who smashed young Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis out of his path 6-3, 6-0, 6-1 Wednesday, is Froehling's next opponent. They meet in one of the two men's matches today with Ralston and Barnes clashing in the other.

The other two men's matches Friday send top-seeded McKinley, the Wimbledon champion, against

Maris Homers Yanks to Win, Number Is 11

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

One wave of Roger Maris' wand did the trick and now the magic number is 11.

Maris pulled the game out of the hat in the last of the ninth inning with a two-run homer, lifting the New York Yankees to a 5-4 victory Wednesday over Washington.

A few hours later, Minnesota moved into second place in the American League by beating the Los Angeles Angels 4-2 after Kansas City had swept a pair from the Chicago White Sox, 4-2 and 7-3.

The results reduced the Yanks' magic number to 11—any combination of New York victories and Minnesota losses totaling 11 will mean the Bombers' 28th pennant. The Yankees are 12½ games ahead with 22 to go, the Twins have 23 to play, Chicago, now 13 out, has 22 games left.

Don't look for any surprises.

Also in the AL—Phil Regan won again, Al Kaline took over the league batting lead and Rocky Colavito batted in three runs as Detroit's streaking Tigers whipped Boston 6-1; and Baltimore overcame Cleveland 6-5 on the first grand slam homer of Luis Aparicio's eight-year major league career.

St. Louis drew to within five games of front-running Los Angeles in the National League race, with the Cardinals shading the New York Mets 6-5 and the Chicago Cubs knocking off the Dodgers 2-1 in 11 innings. Milwaukee's wondrous Warren Spahn registered victory No. 346 with a 1-0 triumph over Pittsburgh; San Francisco clubbed Houston 8-3; and Philadelphia nipped Cincinnati 3-2.

Hard-throwing Jim Bouton, gunning for his 20th victory, was bombed for three homers—including a two-run blow by Senator pitcher Claude Osteen — and the Yanks trailed 4-3 going into the last of the ninth.

But they have a way turning these things around, and Maris applied the crusher this time with his 20th homer after a leadoff walk to Elston Howard. That made a winner out of Steve Hamilton, a loser out of Osteen.

Ed Brinkman and Don Lock had the other Washington homers. Angel rookie Fred Newman made it easy for the Twins, wild pitching in one run and walking across Minnesota's clincher. Lefty Dick Stigman beat Los Angeles for the fourth straight time, squaring his record at 14-14 with a seven-hitter.

All Teams in SWC Are Improved

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)—The 1963 Southwest Conference football race already has been tabbed as another two-team affair between Texas and Arkansas.

Past records and personnel of the two squads certainly indicate it. But they appear to be in for more competition this time.

Whereas the league had only two outstanding teams last season it now boasts at least four.

It is generally agreed that every team is improved over last season although Coach Darrell Royal of Texas and Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas insist they couldn't be better.

But no two teams ever dominated the league for such a long period before. Texas in a four-year stretch has won one championship (last year) tied for two and finished in a tie for second the other time.

Arkansas has won one title, tied for two and finished second, once. Only in their personal duels has one team surpassed the other. In four meetings Texas has won three and Arkansas one.

This year the game is in Arkansas territory, which ordinarily would be considered an Arkansas advantage. But it hasn't worked out that way. Arkansas' lone victory over Texas was in Austin.

Rice, which handed Texas its only smirch last season (the Owls played Texas to a 14-14 tie) and Texas Christian are considered the chief contenders.

But some like Texas A&M, with its big, veteran-packed squad. Others think Baylor, with the nation's leading passer, Don Trull, might figure in where the championship is to go.

Texas Christian has the most wins: 259; Drysdale, Los Angeles, 231.

experience. There are 30 letter-wearers on the Horned Frog squad. Trouble is there's little experience at quarterback where the brilliant Sonny Gibbs has to be replaced.

Rice has only 15 lettermen and wouldn't seem of championship caliber. But there's quality in that slim list. Rice has a top quarterback in Walter McReynolds and one of the most talked-about sophomores in the league in Gene Walker, a big fellow who can run like the wind and do most everything else a coach might want.

The Aggies have the size and mobility they may have sorely-needed passing and running through shifting Jim Linnstaedler to quarterback.

Texas Tech and Southern Methodist should be greatly improved but not enough to start thinking about title contention.

Royal and Royle are doing a noble job of trying to get their teams off the spot. Royal says she won with the bounce of the ball last year and that most of his decisions were so close they could have gone the other way had the ball done a back flip.

"That might come this year," he warns gravely.

Broyles said he was handicapped because he had lost three high-powered running backs and also because, under the new substitution rule, he would have to coach all his boys both ways.

But both squads have 28 lettermen, boast depth, experience and veracity. Neither coach is going to convince anybody that his team isn't stronger than last season.

Dodgers Lose, Lead Cut to 5 Over Cards

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the big book of baseball strategy you walk a guy like Billy Williams to get at Ken Hubbs. So the Dodgers did.

Their National League lead is now down to five games over second-place St. Louis.

Hubbs, who led the league in strikeouts with 129 last year and was equally proficient at hitting into doubleplays, crossed up the book Wednesday night by lining a two-out single in the 11th inning that gave the Chicago Cubs a 2-1 decision over first-place Los Angeles.

The Dodgers' board of strategy held its meeting after Andre Rodgers led off the 11th with a single and moved around to second on a sacrifice. With two out, it was decided to give Williams—who outlits Hubbs by about 50 points—an intentional walk.

That decision lopped a full game off the Dodgers' lead over the surging Cardinals, who extended their longest winning streak of the season to seven games as Ken Boyer's 100th run batted in provided the decisive score in a 6-5 victory over the New York Mets.

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn grabbed part of the spotlight with a sparkling four-hit, 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh that gave him 19 victories for the season, the 60th shutout of his career and seventh place on the all-time list of winners with 346 triumphs.

In other games, Willie McCovey hit his 35th homer and Orlando Cepeda collected No. 26 as San Francisco walloped Houston 8-3 and pitcher Dennis Bennett provided the go-ahead run in Philadelphia's 3-2 decision over Cincinnati.

The American League-leading New York Yankees edged Washington 5-4. Minnesota defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-2. Detroit clipped Boston 6-1, Baltimore edged Cleveland 6-5 and Kansas City took two from the Chicago White Sox 4-2 and 7-3.

The Cubs opened the scoring against the Dodgers in the sixth on singles by Rodgers and Ellis Burton and a sacrifice fly by Ron Santo. The Dodgers tied it in their half on doubles by Jim Gilliam and Tommy Davis.

It stayed that way until the 11th when Hubbs stroked his decisive hit and wound up the night with a sparkling defensive play. The slick-fielding second baseman who set a major league record for most consecutive errorless games last year with 78, bailed reliever Lindy McDaniel, 11-6, out of a hole in the bottom of the 11th when he fielded Willie Davis' grounder with one out and nailed Marv Breeding trying to score from third base. McDaniel then got Lee Walls on a fly to end it.

Stan Musial drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a sacrifice fly as the Cardinals built a 5-1 lead. The Mets rallied for four runs in the top of the seventh with Ed Kranepool's fourth hit producing the tie. Then, in the bottom half, NL batting leader Dick Groat doubled and Boyer followed with the decisive hit. Sam Jones, 2-0, got the victory, Larry Bearnarth, 3-7 the loss.

Injuries Are Hurting the Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

Head football Coach Frank Broyles and his aides were to complete grading today on a film of Wednesday's 40-minute defensive scrimmage.

The Southwest Conference tour by sportswriters centered on Fayetteville today, also, for player interviews and a news conference with Broyles.

The hitting was crisp at the start of Wednesday's evening session, with the emphasis on goal line defense, but when it was over Broyles said the players were so tired they couldn't put one foot in front of the other.

George Walker missed practice Wednesday because of a stiff knee and kicker Tommy Moore missed part of the session for the second straight day because of heat exhaustion.

Trainer Bill Ferrell said Mike Hales, a guard with a knee problem, and Tommy Brasher, Arkansas' salty linebacker, probably will begin practice in a few days.

Brasher also has an injured knee.

WESLEY BRYANT has the job of filling Jerry Mazzanti's shoes at tackle. Two years with the Wild Hogs (and two letters), determination and 225-pounds are his biggest assets. He ranked second to Mazzanti among tackles last year with 10 clean tackles and 20 assists, plus a fumble recovery. Bryant has not been red-shirted at the University of Arkansas, and has the experience needed to make tackle one of the most solid positions on the Razorback roster this year.

GEORGE WALKER probably can out-draw most of his brethren in Mississippi, and at the University of Arkansas he has startled the opposition with his freight-train-like charges off the wing slot. A knee injury last year appears fully healed and coach Frank Broyles hopes he'll

HERS A WEIGHTY PROBLEM

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Mine is an emotional problem. I'm a fatty and it's giving me an inferiority complex. Every time I go to see my sisters (both married), they rush out the scales and start harping on my weight. "You're getting a double chin," they'll say or, "You're still gaining! Where's your will power?"

When I tell them my boy friend likes me as I am, they cry, "Keep on gaining weight and he won't."

At parties "friends" start discussing diets and stare at me. Right then and there I lip away. Let I don't lack for attention. Strangers cut in on my dancing partners. Some say the ylike my smile; others say they like my good humor. I'm the kind that lends a helping hand to folks in trouble so have old friends as well as those my own age, which is 16. I'm ashamed to tell you my weight. I've tried everything; starvation, appetite depressives, exercise and still gain.

What's wrong with me? Am I an overgrown cow, destined to be hefty the rest of my life? —E. T. Dear E. T.: First of all, banish from your head the idea that there is anything wrong with you. Over-weight depends on a variety of factors. At your age, it could be a glandular condition. As I write this I'm thinking of a slim attractive young wife, the mother of two children who was once a fatty like yourself. Her father took her to the late Dr. Walter Timme, the great authority on glandular deficiency. After making many tests, he treated her for a sluggish thyroid condition. Certain medication, plus a sensible diet, brought her back to normal.

Another cause of excessive weight, and more difficult to cope with, is heredity. If either or both of your parents is inclined to be heavy, your chances of inheriting this tendency are very great. So, in facing up to your problem and dealing with it realistically, take this factor into serious account. Stocky parents beget stocky offspring. Skinny parents beget skinny offspring. It's just as simple as that.

In any case, consultation with your doctor is a must. He is the best person to determine whether there is any medical reason for your over-weight, and if so, what you should do about correcting it. You show your intelligence in wanting to take constructive action.

I'm sure your sisters love you deeply. Perhaps they want to goad

Though minded to turn back—for I was almost as fed up with her as with Shirl—I went stubbornly on. Telling her my conditions for going through with that race was infinitely preferable to appearing as a supplicant before her long-nosed sire.

Splashing out of the river I drew rein beside her. She was exotically appareled in the Spanish manner and gave the impression of being pleased to encounter me. Smiling prettily, she asked, "Are you visiting Villalobos?"

I was gruff to the point, almost, of being churlish, declaring somewhat testily, "An errand only," but was quick to note how well she looked. Like enough deep down, I'd probably relished being rude. This did not keep me from finding the look of that red mouth exciting. "I was coming about the race," I said shortly. "If Don Alfredo had not made other arrangements it would suit me to break from a flat-footed score."

This brought up her brows but, still smiling, she said: "As the challenged party it is your privilege, señor. Impose whatever conditions will most advantage you. Don Alfredo would think you a fool if you did not."

"Then tell him," I said, "we'll start Texas fashion. Two days from tomorrow."

I picked up my reins but made no move to depart. She looked at me curiously. "Is

No Incident as Pine Bluff Desegregates

By JOHN R. STARR

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Pine Bluff desegregated its elementary schools without incident Wednesday under a voluntary integration plan proposed by the school board without threat of court action.

Four Negro first and second graders attended brief opening day classes at three formerly all-white schools. Two other Negroes assigned to integrated schools failed to appear, but they were expected to come later in the week. No crowd gathered. Some white students gazed at the Negroes as they crossed the school yards. Generally, however, the desegregation was carried out without undue notice.

"Just a normal opening day," commented Supl. John Trice. "And we'll have a full day of classes tomorrow."

Trice said he was no more concerned about the two absent Negroes than he would be about absent white children.

"We won't try to find out why they didn't come any faster than we'll try to learn why some white children were absent," he said. "We always have a lot of absenteeism on opening day."

Two Negroes attended the Lakeside School and one each went to the Oak Park and First Ward schools Wednesday. One of the missing pupils was assigned to First Ward and the other to the Broadmore School.

Three other white elementary schools were not affected, under the plan which was announced by the board during the summer. It calls for desegregation of two grades a year.

The plan replaced one announced in 1956 and cancelled as a result of the Little Rock school integration crisis of 1957.

Several police officers were stationed at each school, but they stayed in the background. Both Trice and Police Chief Norman Young had said no trouble was expected.

While the public school plan was being put into effect, Catholic Church officials announced at Little Rock that a Negro student was enrolled Tuesday in the Annunciation Academy, a school for grades one through eight at Pine Bluff. The announcement was made after newsmen learned through other sources that the academy had admitted its first Negro.

The public school plan drew opposition, when announced, from both segregationists and Negro groups, but neither group tried to organize demonstrations against it.

Minor violence accompanied desegregation of the Dollarway School in a suburban district two years ago. Two Negroes are attending Dollarway this year.

Brains Named Little Rock Chief

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Captain R. E. Brians was named acting Little Rock police chief today by the Civil Service Commission in the wake of the firing of Chief R. E. Glasscock.

Brians has been senior officer in charge of the department since Glasscock was fired Aug. 19. Glasscock was reinstated and allowed to resign so he would be eligible for a pension. The reason for the firing has not been announced.

City Manager Ancil Douthitt said the commission could make Brians' appointment permanent without a competitive examination.

on her for?"

"I've an idea she's fast. I think that mare was your pick. Then, when Shirl took her away from you—"

His eyes slid away.

"It's plain enough," I grinned at him bleakly. "We've all got our pet devils, you know. Even Shirl. He intends to be able to run if he has to. Cheer up," I said. "Shirl isn't my worry. The only pay you'd get out of him is a bullet."

Longer Anti Red War in Viet Nam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political and religious turbulence rocking South Viet Nam has caused some key U.S. military men to revise their estimates and predict a longer anti-Communist war—and probably a longer American involvement.

Past predictions that victory over Red guerrillas might be achieved in three years or so were based largely on an assumption of political stability in South Viet Nam.

Some knowledgeable officers considered that time estimate optimistic, even before the Saigon government began repressing Buddhists last May.

Meanwhile, Secretary of the Army Cyrus Vance is about to leave on a two-week Pacific area tour which will take him to South Viet Nam about the middle of the month.

He will be the first top civilian official from the Pentagon to visit South Viet Nam since the Buddhist troubles broke out.

Some consideration was given to striking South Viet Nam from Vance's itinerary because of the delicate situation which finds the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem in conflict with U.S. policy.

Apparently the matter has been resolved in favor of Vance's going to Saigon—but informed authorities indicated he will confine himself to a military inspection and avoid any public comments on the Vietnamese political-religious crisis.

Present plans call for Vance to leave Sunday and stop at Hawaii, Okinawa, Korea, Formosa, Viet Nam and briefly in Japan where he has been invited to confer with defense officials.

Although Vance ostensibly will pay attention chiefly to the U.S. Army and its activities in Viet Nam he is expected to give Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara a report on his impressions of the difficult situation there.

While outwardly optimistic about the course of the war to suppress the Communists, McNamara has stressed it will be a long, hard struggle.

Adm. Harry D. Felt, the U.S. commander in the Pacific, told a news conference last January that he was willing to stand on a prediction of victory in South Viet Nam in three years.

Campaigning for Barry Goldwater

By BASIL C. RAFFETY
OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Truman Wood has a husband, three children, two telephones, an aging car, a newly seeded lawn and a political gold mine.
She does her own housework, sometimes with a lift from her children, the oldest of whom is Robin, 9, and tries to keep the newly seeded lawn wet down. But she has given up bridge interior decorating and the JMT League.
Mrs. Wood, a trim, vivacious blue-eyed blonde of 35 and a sixth-generation Omahan, is one of the originators and the prime mover in what she calls an astonishingly simple do-it-yourself campaign to make Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona the 1964 Republican presidential nominee.
It is incorporated as "Gold for Goldwater of Nebraska," and its registered office is 5410 Seward Street, the Wood home.
The campaign currently is yielding between $2,000 and $2,500 per week "and I really believe we haven't even scratched the surface," said Mrs. Wood, whose husband is a sales executive for an oil refinery.
Contributions to the campaign, which already has enlisted about 1,400 persons in 32 states, are largely in the form of postdated checks from $10 up. They are placed in escrow in the United States National Bank of Omaha under an agreement which provides they will be turned over to the corporation for use if Goldwater is nominated, but will be burned by the bank if he is not.
So far these checks total about $12,000. Mrs. Wood says the dollar value of the contributions is "completely secondary" to the number of people the money represents.
"People who give money now are committing themselves as workers," she said. It is her ambition to see Goldwater go into the national convention next year with a broad enough base of support to protect him from compromises hatched in smoke-filled rooms.
Mrs. Wood, daughter of former Republican congressman Howard Buffett of Omaha, lived in Washington for six years as a girl. But so far as politics was concerned, "I was a complete dodo — that's my nickname, — Dodo," she said.
It was not until she attended the 1952 Republican National Convention with her father and saw the late Sen. Robert A. Taft lose the nomination in a matter of hours that her ideas on practical politics began to take shape.

'Suspense' Theater Set for Thursdays

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—CBS' "The Defenders" apparently started it, but it is evident now that a new requirement of television drama is to "say something."
The rule does not apply to pure entertainment forms—comedy and variety shows—but a message or at least a philosophy must be buried somewhere in every drama.
"The Defenders" has examined on a weekly basis points of view on subjects ranging from illegal operations to academic freedom, and has sometimes shown a regrettable tendency to get a little preachy.
During the coming months, point-of-view series will increase. One will be NBC's "Suspense Theatre," a new Thursday night entry, which will try to blend goose-bumps with themes of significance.

Roy Huggins, producer of the series, insists that drama must say something—and say it entertainingly.
"It really doesn't matter what the statement is," Huggins said. "A few years ago in New York, there were two stage plays on the same street making contradictory statements and both were hits. One was 'A Streetcar Named Desire,' with Blanche DuBois saying that if you live by illusions you will be destroyed. The other was 'Harvey,' saying that if you don't live by illusion you cannot be very happy."
Huggins expected tackle such subjects as lack of communication between parents and children and sterility of life for those who withdraw deliberately from its main stream.
"It doesn't matter what we say—we can, in fact, make a different statement each week, even contradict ourselves," he said.

58 Starters Will Not Finish School
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Education Department estimated Tuesday that 58 per cent of the 46,500 pupils starting the first grade in Arkansas this fall would not finish high school.
The estimate was made by Frank W. Cannaday, supervisor of research and statistics for the department.
Cannaday said the state was cutting the dropout rate by about one per cent a year. It was 78 per cent in the class which started school in 1949 and 64 per cent among those who started in 1949.
"The important thing is to make that human statement with validity and to make it dramatically," he said.
The series interrupted occasionally by a Porro Como variety hour, begins Oct. 10.
Californians consume more than twice as much bourbon as the residents of any other state.

Three Bodies Sought in Private Lake

CROSSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A private, 30-acre lake is expected to be drained today in the search for Mrs. John Reed, mother of two small children whose bodies were found Sunday in a septic tank about 500 yards from the lake.
Using bits and pieces of their clothing, officers identified the children as John Anthony Reed, 2, and Rose Marie Reed, 4. The 19-year-old mother officers said, disappeared from her Crossville home sometime in November.
A. Cecil Strader of the Tennessee Highway Patrol said investigators in the case want to question a man identified as Sammie Earle Ammons, about 30, of Knoxville. He said that Ammons is known in the area by the alias "Big John Williams" and is wanted in "just about every county around here for bad checks."

"The last description of him we had was when he was passing bad checks was that he was with a woman and two small children," Strader said. "The last we heard of Mrs. Reed was she was baby sitting for him and was last seen with him."
Mrs. Reed's husband lives near here. Officers said they were separated some time ago.
The bodies of the children were discovered after a tourist reported seeing what he thought was a human hand in the septic tank, which is in the rugged mountain country at a demolished resort hotel, about 18 miles east of here.
The deaths were ruled a double homicide.

Urban Renewal Plan for Mena
MENA, Ark. (AP)—The Mena City Council has adopted a resolution asking the Urban Renewal Administration to take back a $25,000 planning grant because residents of this west Arkansas town of 4,400 don't want urban renewal.
The administration made the grant in April to aid the city in preparing plans to correct flood conditions and rehabilitate slum areas.
Mayor Monroe Drye said between 500 and 700 persons attended a public meeting last week and expressed opposition to the project. Marvin Mouton, chairman of the Good Government League, which sponsored the meeting, said Mena was in a low income area, and many persons affected by the project would be unable to pay increased rent.
Areas containing 346 dwellings, 89 per cent of which are substandard, would have been rehabilitated.

Bonn Has Own Service of Intelligence

By HANNS NEUBOURG
MUNICH, Germany, (AP)—A whitewashed wall rings a wooded estate in a fashionable Munich suburb.
This is about all the outsider sees of the tightly guarded and mystery-laced headquarters of the "Bundesnachrichtendienst"—the German Federal Intelligence Service, or BND for short.
A more popular label is "Gehlen organization" named after its leader who set up the espionage network under American auspices when the cold war broke up the World War II alliance.
Former Lt. Gen. Reinhard Gehlen, in the business for more than 20 years, has an outfit of perhaps 4,000 men. Recently they have weathered an unprecedented onslaught of public criticism.
His agency became the target of violent attacks after a senior official, Hein Felfe, was convicted as a Soviet agent in Germany's biggest spy trial since the war.
Court testimony at Karlsruhe disclosed Felfe and a codefendant, Hans Clemens, during the Nazi era were both intelligence officials of the SS-controlled Reich security head office—which also employed Adolf Eichmann. Clemens admitted that he took part in the shooting of 330 Italian hostages.
Leaders of both opposition and government parties urged that the outfit be given a thorough going over. Newspapers spoke of a "Nazi nest in Munich." Some politicians clamored for merging BND with the two other German intelligence organizations.

The government took things in stride. The federal chancellery, to which Gehlen is immediately attached, let it be known that "far less than one per cent" of the Gehlen staff formerly were in SS ranks.
What's more, officials said, the fact that Felfe and Clemens were tracked down by the Gehlen people themselves — in 1961 — showed the agency's efficiency.
Gehlen first got into the espionage field in 1942 when he took over as head of the German army's "Foreign Armies East" department, assigned to collect information on buildups in the rear of the Red army front.
When the war ended, Gehlen possessed wealth of data copied in triplicate and carefully stowed away in secret places. It is said that Gehlen got in touch with Gen. Edwin L. Sibert, then assistant director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.
U.S. Gen. George S. Patton, sensing early East-West tension, reportedly sent Gehlen to the United States where the German agreed to set up a new spy organization, provided he got a free hand in picking his staff.
The Gehlen organization was provisionally headquartered in the wooded Spessart Mountains south of Frankfurt in 1947 and eventually moved to Pullach, a suburb of Munich. The Americans spent many millions on it before it was put under German control as a Bonn government agency in 1955.

Georgia Rules White-Negro Marriage Void

ATLANTA (AP) — The marriage of Charlayne Hunter, first Negro girl to enter and graduate from the University of Georgia, to a white Southerner is void in Georgia, says Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook.

Miss Hunter, 21, disclosed Monday in New York that she secretly married Walter Stovall, 25, of Douglas Ga., last spring. She said they are expecting a child in December.

"They are not married under Georgia law," Cook said Tuesday. "It's unlawful for a white person to marry anyone except a white person, and any marriage in violation of this law shall be void."

The couple, who met at the university where they were students, declined to give the exact time and place of the wedding, but said it was in the North.

Cook said any marriage solemnized in another state by "Ties Intending at the time" to reside in this state "shall have the same legal consequences as if they were solemnized in Georgia."

The attorney general said he is investigating to ascertain where the marriage took place.

Cook said he would submit his findings to the solicitor general and a grand jury to determine if the couple may have lived in violation of Georgia's criminal law.

Indonesia Against Malaya Decision

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Foreign Ministry announced today Indonesia has filed a strong protest against Malaya's decision to form Malaysia Sept. 16.

A ministry spokesman said the protest deplored the "reckless and premature decision," calling it a "unilateral act contravening the letter and spirit of the Manila summit agreements."

A spokesman said the note told the Malayan government its decision "forestalls the outcome" of a U.N. investigation in the British Borneo territories of Sarawak and North Borneo to determine whether the people want to merge with Malaya and Singapore to form Malaysia.

The U.N. survey was called for by the recent Manila summit agreement signed by Indonesia, the Philippines and Malaya. Indonesia and the Philippines have conditioned their acceptance of Malaysia on results of the survey.

Indonesia said the survey was a grand jury would have to return an indictment against the couple in order for him to take any action.

Mrs. Stovall graduated from the university in June with a journalism degree. Stovall lacked only one quarter of work to get his journalism degree.

University officials expressed shock at the marriage. University President O.C. Aderhold said that neither of them would be permitted to enter the university again.

Decade of Change in Education

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the decade of change in American education.

A complete transformation of the schools is under way. New educational techniques are moving from idea to experiment to standard practice with unprecedented speed.

Educators are beginning to realize that children can learn almost anything at almost any age if taught properly.

A generation ago, algebra and geometry were reserved for high school. Today they are being taught to some second graders.

Home television viewing has had a tremendous impact on education. First graders who watch U.S. astronauts blast off into space aren't content to wait until junior high school for an introduction to general science.

Teachers have known for years that children vary widely in their abilities to learn. Now, with a better public climate for experimentation, they are capitalizing on that knowledge.

The result is that the century-old practice of marching youngsters in lockstep from kindergarten through high school just because they are the same age is headed for the academic ash can. Instead, many of the nation's schools are adopting the nongraded concept, in which pupils move through their studies as fast or as slow as their individual ability dictates.

If it's a boon for the brilliant student, it also is a lifesaver for the not-so-bright. Each progresses at his own rate without boredom or frustration.

Another tradition-bound idea that may be completely out of style before the end of this decade is the nine-month school year followed by a three-month vacation.

Last year the University School in Tallahassee, Fla., adopted a revolutionary program which combined an 11-month school year, longer class periods, Saturday and evening classes, and a non-graded program from first grade through high school graduation.

This week in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a similar plan went into effect at Nova School, with 1,500 students in grades 7 through 10.

The decade of change is affecting every phase of education from the shape of the schoolhouse to the length of the class period. Many of today's new schools provide individual study cubicles. Sliding walls can change a large lecture room to smaller rooms for group discussion.

So rapidly is the educational scene shifting that yesterday's innovation is today's relic.

A case in point is the language laboratory, an array of tape recorders, earphones and phonographs that give students individualized instruction in speaking, hearing and reading and foreign language.

Today the language labs are being criticized as too restricted in usage. What's needed, some educators are saying, is a laboratory for use in teaching speech, music, typing and other subjects as well as foreign languages.

WHIRLY-GIRL — Doris (Mrs. W. H.) Renninger of East Norwich, Long Island, has become the first woman in New York State to qualify as a helicopter pilot. She is now the 50th member of the Whirly-Girls, an international association of women helicopter pilots. Mrs. Renninger, a grandmother, has been an airplane pilot since 1955.

Koreans Arrest Former Premier

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korea's military authorities arrested former Premier Yoo Chan (Tiger) Song at a Seoul hospital where he had been admitted for treatment of high blood pressure.

Song, an outspoken opponent to the military rule in South Korea, was taken from Yonsei University Hospital to Mapo Prison in an army ambulance.

Officials of the military investigation authority showed up at the hospital, showed him an arrest warrant issued by Lt. Gen. Kei Won Kim, deputy chief of staff of the army who has been named justice of Song's trial, and whisked him away to the prison.

The arrest came shortly after a South Korean army court martial Wednesday indefinitely postponed Song's trial because of the defendant's poor health.

Song, 47, three-star army general, has been indicated by the army prosecutors' office of unlawfully executing three military personnel in 1950 during the Korean War and slandering the government.

Seeking Out Pro Castro Students

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police swarmed over Central University today looking for pro-Castro students believed to have been involved in a bloody, daring raid on air force headquarters in downtown Caracas.

Four terrorists, apparently bent on stealing the paratroop guards' submachine guns, shot up the headquarters Tuesday, killing a guard and wounding a passerby. One terrorist was reported wounded.

Police traced the terrorists' getaway car, driven by a woman, to the university campus. They seized two students and a cache of arms in a dormitory for foreign students.

Officials said the raid was staged by members of the Armed Forces for National Liberation (FALN), a Communist organization trying to topple President Romulo Betancourt before the presidential election in November. Betancourt says Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba sponsors the terrorists.

Most of Basutoland's 11,716 square miles cling to the steep sides of the Drakensberg Range, largest in South Africa.

A scene for a teen's room is decorated with "Friendship flowers" combining painted posters with photographs centers. School pennants fly above.

Dollar Does Show Some Advances

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Moves to strengthen the American dollar are scoring some initial successes in world money markets.

The dollar has advanced slightly against the Swiss franc and the German mark. A greater score has been made against the British pound sterling which has dipped to a two-year low in terms of American money.

While the U.S. Treasury gold stocks have shrunk a little more this summer, Britain's gold and convertible currency reserves also fell in August, off about $19.6 million.

None of this necessarily forecasts any great upsurge in the dollar's position. Nor does it cause any real alarm in European money capitals.

It does show the close ties between Western currencies and economies. Some Britons in particular are saying that the efforts to strengthen the dollar are the cause of the pound's weakness, temporary as they expect it to be.

It's a neat trick to strengthen one country's position without weakening another's. That's one reason so much interest is attached to the meeting in Washington later this month of the directors of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund charged with policing the financial dealings of the Western world as well as encouraging their economic growth.

Europeans have been watching the American financial moves. First was higher interest rates to keep lendable American dollars at home. Second was the proposal, now being debated in Congress, to tax American purchases of foreign securities from foreigners, with the same goal in view.

Since American capital has been the great pool from which Europeans could draw since World War II, any drying up of these available funds will be felt.

The British pound this week dipped below the official rate of $2.80 to the American dollar. Part of the decline can be traced to Britain's balance of trade problem.

British imports have been rising and now top their exports, thus weakening the pound. Much of this is seasonal, representing purchases of raw materials.

But the British blame part of the fall on the American financial moves.

Russellville Seeks Urban Renewal

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A Citizens Committee for Better Government is circulating petitions seeking repeal of a city ordinance creating Russellville's First North Side Urban Renewal Project.

A spokesman said most of the committee's membership was drawn from the 532-acre project area which includes 346 homes.

The City Council rejected the group's request that the council sponsor a vote on the project. The petitions seek to place on the Nov. 5 general election ballot an initiated act to repeal the urban renewal ordinance.

City attorney James K. Young said last week that the city could not legally hold an election which would invalidate contracts already entered into with the federal government which has provided a $38,756 grant to finance preliminary planning of the project.

Fort Smith voters recently rejected an urban renewal project.

Discrimination in Business Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee discussed possible amendments today to President Kennedy's bill to ban racial discrimination by businesses serving the public but put off any votes until next week.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said several proposals for restricting the establishments to be covered by the proposed legislation were advanced and members were asked to prepare drafts of amendments they have in mind.

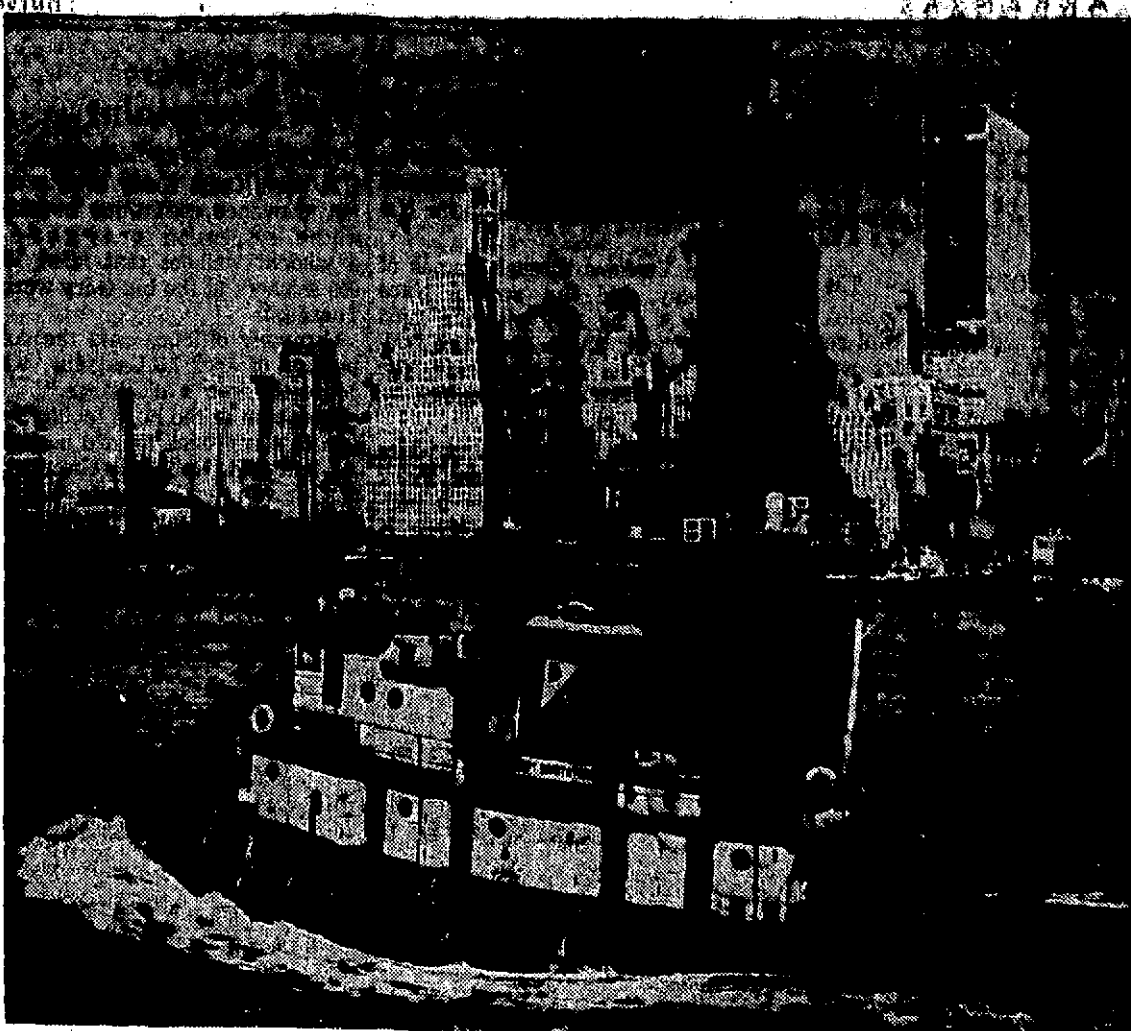

He told newsmen that while there was some discussion of exempting small boarding houses or tourist homes where the owners live on the premises, he couldn't say if there was a majority in favor of changing the bill's coverage provisions.

Magnuson said the committee will meet again Friday for another general discussion and at another meeting set for next Tuesday "may possibly have some votes."

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy M. Cohn was indicted today by a federal grand jury, charged with conspiring to obstruct justice and commit perjury.

Indicted with Cohn, former aide to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy and former asst. U.S. attorney, was Murray E. Gottesman, also an attorney.

Both were accused of testifying false before the grand jury.

"TIRED" COMMUTERS—Looking somewhat like a cross between a bus and a train, this car with pneumatic tires is the first of a new fleet for the Paris Metro (subway). The cars will run on smooth wooden roadways laid between the old steel rails. Metro authorities say the rubber tires give subway cars faster starts and stops, higher cruising speed, less wear and tear and more quiet and comfort for passengers.

Family Lives in Auto for Two Months

CHICAGO (AP)—A mother and her four small children, who have been living in an automobile on a beach, now have a temporary home.

They were taken during the night to the Salvation Army's emergency lodge.

The mother, Mrs. Betty Mitchell, 29, came to Chicago from Clearwater, Fla. with her husband Ronald, also 29, and their youngsters Timothy 6, Kathy 4, Cindy 3, and Gregg 2.

She told a reporter her husband had expected to get a job in Chicago and when he didn't, they decided to sleep in the car because they were short of money.

She said the automobile has been their abode since July 1.

Mrs. Mitchell said her husband went to work Aug. 7 and, when she went to pick him up on his first pay day, Aug. 22, she learned he had received his check and left. She said she hadn't seen him since that day.

Fishermen who frequent the area provided food, blankets and money. Several fishermen notified a newspaper and the story today brought the family's plight to public attention.

Bids Opened on River Bank Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers postponed opening bids on $1.5 million in Arkansas River bank stabilization projects because of new Highway Department truck regulations in Southeast Arkansas.

A total of $800,000 worth of projects in Arkansas and Desha counties were to have been opened Wednesday, and $700,000 in Jefferson County projects were to have been opened Thursday.

A new date for the bid openings was not set.

A spokesman for the engineers said the regulations cutting the speed and load limits of trucks on secondary roads in Southeast Arkansas made it necessary to refigure costs of the jobs.

Man Is Killed Near Nashville

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Lonnie Robert Floyd, 47, of Cherry Valley, a heavy equipment operator for the Southeast Construction Co. of Pine Bluff, was fatally injured Tuesday while working on a highway construction project in the Millwood Reservoir area near Saratoga, 14 miles southeast of Nashville.

Authorities said Floyd had been operating a bulldozer behind his son, Leonard, 19, who was running a scraper. They said they weren't sure whether Floyd was getting on or off the bulldozer or whether it struck him or ran over him.

Floyd was dead on arrival at a Nashville hospital.

Showers Help Needs on Farm

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Scattered showers have helped eliminate dry conditions in some parts of Arkansas but most farms still need a good rain, the Agriculture Department's Cotton Division reported today.

Dry weather has caused older cotton to cut out and young cotton to shed bolls, but a good crop is still in prospect for the state, a USDA spokesman said.

Insects continue to be a problem but regular poisoning schedules are showing good results.

Cotton picking gained momentum throughout the state. Farmers paid hand pickers from $2 to $3 per hundred pounds.

Demand for new crop cotton continued weak.

Debbie Would Like More Children

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds says she would be retired from show business if she had the children she wanted.

She has had two miscarriages since her marriage to shoe tycoon Harry Karl.

"But if those babies had been born," said Debbie in an interview, "I would have quit to rear my family."

"I've always wanted four children," said Debbie. "I have two (by Eddie Fisher) and if Harry and I had two more, I would have been perfectly content to retire. We'll keep trying."

Although she didn't say it, the Eddie-Debbie-Liz Taylor headlines of a few years ago catapulted Debbie from $75,000 a year to better than a million.

There's a big change in Debbie. As she sat in her huge living room, surrounded by expensive pieces of art, she looked like a sophisticated, glamorous, sexy society woman.

"I'm too old to be an ingenue," said Debbie. "I'm no longer Taimmy. I'm a woman who can play character comedienne—because I am somewhat of a character, as you know."

"You know, producers grow old but they never think we do. I'm still the kid who played the tuba in the high school band to some of those guys."

Debbie's decision to retire doesn't stem from a personal bitterness.

"This business has been very good to me—other than the personal aspects where you must live under a microscope—and I've been very happy in it. But I would like to spend more time with my family—I guess I'm somewhat of a square, at least in Hollywood, when it comes to that."

Integration in Reverse in Arkansas

By WIC KEMPLE
NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Yvonne Pitts, a 26-year-old white mother who says she is a firm believer in racial integration, entered her 6-year-old son in an all-Negro school Wednesday despite telephone threats and vandalism to her home.

The boy, Steven, spent a relatively quiet day in the second grade of McAlmont Elementary School, Mrs. Pitts said he would remain there unless there was trouble or he wanted to leave.

She said telephone callers, mostly women, berated her. She quoted one as saying "you're going to wind up just like Evers." Medgar Evers, a field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was shot to death in front of his home at Jackson, Miss.

Eggs were thrown at her house last night and the window above Steven's bed was broken, Mrs. Pitts said. No one was injured. Mrs. Pitts said she did not call police.

"I wish they would leave me alone," she said. "I'm doing what is right. If I could just get one call from someone who understands."

Mrs. Pitts was one of three white persons who went with 100 Negroes from Arkansas to Washington last week for the civil rights march.

"I was singing for freedom as loud as anyone," she said. "And I got to thinking that if we're going to have integration, by golly, let's have it."

She said she is a native of North Little Rock but that she had lived in many states with her husband, now stationed in Alaska with the Air Force. The couple has four other children, all younger than Steven.

Mrs. Pitts said the main reason she took Steven to McAlmont School was because it was closer to her home than the nearest white school.

"I discussed it with Steven and he made me feel like a complete idiot," she said. She said the conversation went this way:

"It's too far to Sherwood (the white school). I can try to get you into McAlmont. The choice is yours."

"Well, I'll go to McAlmont, it's closer."

"You may not like it there. Little colored children go there."

"What difference does that make?"

Mrs. Pitts said she tried to enroll Steven at McAlmont Tuesday but that school officials told her she would have to get permission from the school board.

She later enrolled him at Sherwood. But Wednesday, McAlmont Principal L. O. Blathers said, Mrs. Pitts drove up in front of the Negro school, let Steven out and drove away. Blathers said he took the boy to class.

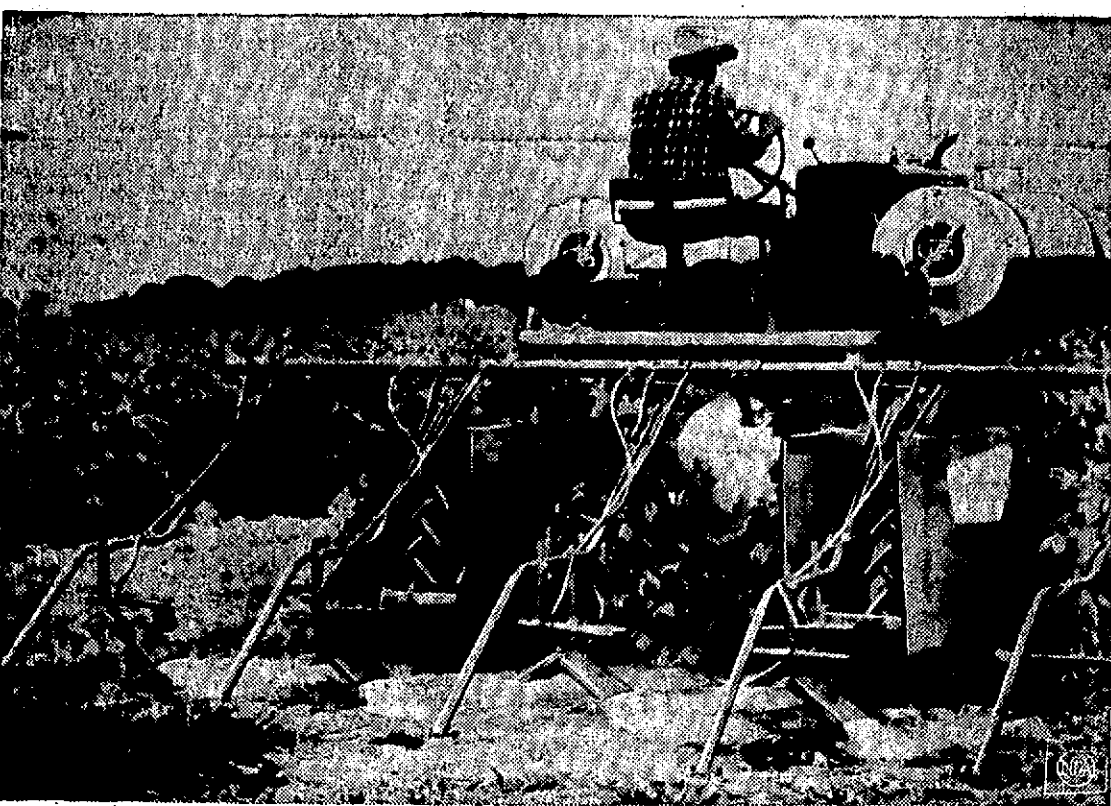

Blathers said Steven told him he would only be there one day. If he stays longer, Blathers said, Mrs. Pitts will have to sign enrollment papers. She said she would, and that Steven would remain at McAlmont.

Mrs. Pitts said she had telephoned her husband and he told her to do what she thought was right, but not to let the boy get hurt.

"This is the main thing we're fighting for," she said. "To have the child go to the school nearest his home."

She said she thought Steven would get along well at McAlmont. "The trouble won't come from Negroes, but from white people," she said. "He's safer at school than he is here at home."

It was the first known integration of a Negro school by a white child in Arkansas. McAlmont School is about a mile from the Pitts home. Sherwood School is between two and three miles.

FLAME CULTIVATION—Liquified gas fuels this cultivator in a Southern cotton field. Intense heat, applied for a fraction of a second, cause weed plants' cells to explode, and weeds wither and die. Weeds along fence rows, in orchards and along drainage ditches succumb to similar treatment through use of other types of applicators.

Fryers and Hamburger Meat Choice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Lamb cuts, stew beef and hamburger, and fryers and small turkeys are the chief attractions of a varied selection at the nation's groceries this weekend.

Vegetable and fruit bins are also heavily laden with late summer and early fall produce.

Lamb specials are most widespread in the Northeast and Midwest.

Beef features, besides the economical stew and hamburger, include chuck roasts and round steaks.

Chickens and turkeys vie for honors, with Midwestern shops generally giving the best-buy nod to broiler-fryers while Southwestern stores lean toward small turkeys.

Pork attractions this weekend are several cured varieties, including smoked hams and bacon. Vegetable offerings are the richest in weeks in many areas, with seasons overlapping. Best-buy carrots, celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, eggplant, squash, sweet potatoes, cabbage, lettuce, onions, peppers and tomatoes.

Among fruits, watermelon, cantaloupe and nectarines are highlights. Grapes, with a near record volume, are attractively priced and plum supplies are good. Pear output is off sharply, however.

Other fruit attractions include avocado, limes and honeydew melons.

FIRST PREFAB?—Historians think this odd half-and-half house was the first prefabricated building in America. It is the Barrett Gate House in New Harmony, Ind., built about 1814. Rappites from Germany established a model community on this location. The logs for the building were cut and prepared in the woods. To make erection easier, they were numbered, then dragged to town and placed in position.

Saline Gets Back Money Invested

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — Wheatley Industries Inc., has reimbursed Saline County for $127,000 the county spent on Wheatley's Benton plant and machinery, County Judge E. R. Stewart said Wednesday.

The Wheatley pump and valve company closed the plant in June several weeks after 29 members of the United Steelworkers Union struck.

The money has been deposited in escrow in the National Bank of Commerce in Pine Bluff, trustees for the $350,000 bond issue approved by Saline voters in 1962.

The trustees have approved an additional note of $23,000 from Wheatley to run 12 months, with payments to start Jan. 1, Stewart said.

Wheatley officials started moving equipment out of the building Wednesday, Stewart said. The firm has until Nov. 1 to transfer all of its equipment to the Tulsa plant.

Stewart said the Wheatley payment will "give us enough money to retire the bonds in six years."

He said he has had inquiries from firms interested in the building.

No School Financing Change Seen

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Education Commissioner Arch Ford said Tuesday that a study of the Minimum Foundation Program would not result in a new approach to school financing.

More than $60 million is to be sent to local school districts under the program this year.

Ford said the program had worked so well in the six years since its adoption that he could see only refinements coming out of the study.

The 1963 legislature directed the state Board of Education to study the operation and effects of the program and present its findings and recommendations to the 1965 legislature. The legislature appropriated $15,000 for the study.

The state Board of Education is to meet Sunday and Monday at Little Rock and Ford is to recommend the hiring of consultants to undertake the survey.

The current program was set up by Educational Research Services' legislature. The legislature appropriated $15,000 for the study.

Weather Bureau Makes it Official

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Weather Bureau announced Tuesday what Arkansans suspected all along—last month was one of the driest Augusts on record.

The rain gauge at Little Rock measured only .62 inch during the month's 31 days. This compares to an average rainfall of 2.82 for August.

In the last 53 years, only the August of 1936, 1945 and 1954 were drier than last month.

Rainfall through August totaled 19.37 inches, 14.97 inches below normal.

Pleads Innocent to Murder

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James Dean Walker, 25, of Reno, Nev., pleaded innocent by reason of insanity Wednesday to first degree murder charges growing out of the slaying of a North Little Rock policeman in a gun battle.

Patrolman Jerrall Vaughan was killed last February when he stopped Walker and Russell Freeman Kump of Little Rock after they fled from a Little Rock private club after a disturbance.

Walker's attorney asked Circuit Judge William J. Kirby that Walker be given a mental examination and Kirby said he would so order. The date for the examination was not set.

Driver Lesson Ends in Death

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — A driving lesson ended in death Tuesday for Cullen Woodward, 75, a Negro of Conway, when he was struck by a car in the backyard of his niece's home at Morrilton.

City Policeman Leo Denton said the niece, Cum Woodward, 47, apparently hit the accelerator instead of the brake and crashed into Woodward who was seated in a chair. Denton said the woman had been driving to Woodward, then putting the car in reverse and returning to her starting point about 100 feet away.

The car dragged Woodward 27 feet before pinning him in a ditch.

Cornor Robert D. Harris ruled accidental death.

10 Teams to Meet About World Series

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees, Los Angeles Dodgers and eight other still remaining pennant contenders were invited today to a World Series arrangements meeting with baseball commissioner Ford Frick in Chicago, Sept. 9.

Other clubs invited, besides the Yankees and Dodgers—who are almost certain to meet in the opening World Series game in New York's Yankee Stadium on Wednesday, Oct. 2—are the Chicago

White Sox and Minnesota Twins of the American League and the St. Louis Cardinals, San Francisco Giants, Milwaukee Braves, Philadelphia Phillies, Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs in the National.

The Yankees through games of Tuesday, led the second place White Sox by 1½ with the third place Twins 12½ behind. The Dodgers led the Cards by six, the Giants by 9½ and the others by more than 10.

Asked why the far-behind White Sox and Twins were invited, Frick said: "We can't concede a pennant to any club while there is still a mathematical possibility to overtake it."

The purpose of the meeting, the commissioner explained, was to discuss player eligibility, scheduling, travel, playoff possibilities and establishing ticket prices.

Governor Might Go Overseas
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus is considering making his first overseas trip since he became governor.

Faubus said Tuesday he and Mrs. Faubus might go to Japan later this year with a group of other governors and their wives.

Faubus has turned down invitations to visit South Africa, Europe and Puerto Rico in recent years.

sal and Mark Thacher local president, indicated this would be done.

"We will take all the legal and legitimate steps necessary under our contract agreement to correct this injustice," Thacher said.
